Many persons contributed to the production of this revision. To the following reviewers, I give my thanks for their thoughtful and constructive comments: Leonard D. Albano, Worcester Polytechnic Institute; Joseph Crocker, Colorado School of Mines; Mike Folse, University of New Orleans; Robert Hamilton, Boise State University; Jeffrey A. Laman, the Pennsylvania State University; Tyler Ley, Oklahoma State University; Jean-Paul Pinelli, Florida Institute of Technology; Jay Shen, Illinois Institute of Technology; Bozidar Stojadinovic, University of California, Berkeley; and Chia-Ming Vang, University of California, San Diego.

I would also like to express my appreciation to Chris Shortt, Publisher, Global Engineering at Cengage Learning; Randall Adams, Senior Acquisitions Editor; Hilda Gowans, Senior Developmental Editor, who has been especially helpful and supportive, and Rose Kernan of RPK Editorial Services. In addition, the American Institute of Steel Construction has been very helpful in providing updates on the AISC Specification and Manual. Thanks also to Adam Belew and Ali Hajihashemi for their assistance in the preparation of the solutions manual. Finally, I want to thank my wife, Angela, for her valuable suggestions, patience, and support during the production of the five editions of this book.

I have attempted to check everything for errors, but it is inevitable that some will remain. I would appreciate learning of any errors that you may find. I can be contacted at wsegui@memphis.edu.
